

Financial Assistance for Your Internship

In the world of financial aid, there are many different types of assistance and each serves a different purpose. Scholarships, grants, fellowships, internships, and student loans are not interchangeable. Below are resources to help you know the difference and find these opportunities.

Scholarships

Scholarships are financial awards given to eligible students, typically with no strings attached.

Search Here for Scholarships:

<https://www.scholarships.com/financial-aid/college-scholarships/scholarship-directory>

<https://www.fastweb.com/>

<http://www.moolahspot.com/>

Grants

Like scholarships, grants are cash awards that do not need to be repaid. There are federal grants, state grants, and private grants. Grants are often awarded to graduate students for research. The best-known undergraduate student grant is the federal Pell Grant. Grants decide if the money is used toward tuition, research costs, or other expenses.

Search Here for Grants:

<http://www.collegescholarships.org/grants/101-grants.htm>

Fellowships

Fellowships require students to perform research as part of the deal. Most fellowship packages include stipends on top of covering tuition. Fellowships are lucrative and competitive.

Search Here for Fellowships:

<https://career.berkeley.edu/InfoLab/FellowUndergrad>

<https://www.profellow.com/fellowships/46-study-abroad-fellowships-and-scholarships-for-undergraduate-and-graduate-students/>

Interning Internationally?

Check out all of the opportunities listed on the International Internship Program website:

<http://internships.international.wisc.edu/students/funding/>